It is a matter for congratulation that Captain De Lamar has again invaded the west in search of prospective bonanzas. About a year and a half or two years ago, it will be remembered, the captain signified his intention of quitting the active arena of the mining world and contenting himself in the world and contenting himself in the less exciting occupation of underwrit-ing. The fascination of the calling in which he prospered so well seems to have been too strong, however, for him to give it up, and it may be taken for granted that he will again cut loose and make more history by bringing many other prospects to the dividend-carning stage before he quits for good.

DOINGS AT DEEP CREEK.

Mine Owners Waiting For Railroad-

Some of the Active Properties.

Advices from Clifton, in the Deep Creek country, are to the effect that the great majority of mine owners are awaiting the building of the Western Pacific railroad. Last fail everybody out there expected that construction crews would have been at work beformow, and great preparations were commenced to cut loose in earnest with the development of their properties this year. They half expected disappointment, however, because they had been fooled so many times before, and when it became apparent that construction would be held up another year, in all likelihood, they simply became disgusted and quit.

At a few properties work is still under way, and in isolated instances owners are pushing things with just the same vigor that would characterize

"John M. Garrison arrived in Clifton few days ago to start work on the Monster group of claims and other properties owned by himself and assoclates. Mr. Garrison says he will push work all summer and block out ore in order to be in shape to ship when the much-talked-of railroad reaches camp. "J. H. Wolcott has returned from a trip to Salt Lake, and, with Captain W. N. Carmen, is pushing work on the Troy group, where they have a fine showing of gold-bearing rock.

"W. P. Richards is working on the Electric company's claims, where he has a contract to drive a 100-foot tunnel on the Buily Boy lode, following the strike of the vein. He has a good showing of silver-lead ore.

"At the Midas, under the skilled management of W. D. Ider, who recently came from Butte to take charge of the property, the mill is running with the regularity of clockwork on $20 rock. The monthly clean-up of gold bullion is said to be such that a hand-some profit over operating expenses is some profit over operating expenses is being made. Spring Creek district L. C. Kar-rick has three shifts at work running a tunnel to cross-cut a well defined ledge of high grade silver-gold ore. The outcrop is strong and can be easily traced for a distance of 2,000 feet through the property. Another fifty feet, Mr. Karrick calculates, will cut the vein at a vertical depth of about The mine and mill are idle at present, but there appears to be a likeli-hood of early resumption. S. M. Levy-of the Western Exploration company's staff spent several days recently sampling the mine and sizing up the country. He appeared to be very favorably impressed with the property and expects to be on the ground again very

UNCLE SAM'S RICH PRODUCT.

Over $6,000 Worth of Ore and Concentrates in One Consignment.

For a trifle over 143 tons of crude ore and concentrates the Unble Sam Consolidated Mining company yesterday pulled down a check from the smelter for $6,006.47. The crude ore consisted of 111,755 pounds, for which was received $1,156.87. In the lot of concentrates was 225,440 pounds, which brought $4,846.60 brought $4,849.60.

These figures indicate that the consignments had an average net value a little in excess of $42 per ton, an average that will compare favorably with the average product of any mine in the position, a well known engineer said yesterday:

"There is certainly no class of men who do more to make business for the railroads in this western country than the mining engineers and experts who are being constantly called upon to go into the mining camps for the purpose of sampling and reporting upon properties in the interests of investors. While drummers and commercial travelers representing all classes of business other than mining are permitted to check samples and take them along as baggage, mining engineers are compelled to ship samples by express and trust to luck for their reaching their destination anywhere near on time and without having been tampered with. Ordinarily these samples are inclosed in strong leather pouches and are less cumbersome and weighty than many of the sample cases that the ordinary drumsample cases that the ordinary drum-mer is allowed to take along with him as baggage. I believe the mining en-gineers are entitled to better treatment and they should not be compelled to go down on their knees and beg for it, either. A day's time is frequently of great importance to them and the promoters of mining deals, the consummation of which often means everything to summation of which often means everything to a transportation company, and they would like to get relief.

"Another thing. There is a great deal of activity in the mining districts of Nevada at the present time, and that it will continue for a long time to come seems reasonably certain. Under the present regulations it is impossible to either buy a ticket or check baggage from any point in Nevada to Salt Lake. Nelson mine at Mountain City, Elko from any point in Nevada to Salt Lake. Nelson mine at Mountain City, Elko county, Nevada, comes another that he has finally landed the property in the Funeral mountains, Inyo county, California, where the recent big strikes of gold ore were reported, and where, the reports at the time stated, Hartwig A. Cohen was then making an examination.

The purchase price is reported at 250,000, of which $10,000 has been paid, and the captain's representatives given possession of the ground under a bond running for one year. The surface

The report gives nothing but the bare announcement that the sale has been made. Additional light is thrown on the transaction by the Woodrlyer Times of Thursday, which says:

"Ex-President C. M. Schwab of the United States Steel trust, has closed his option on a majority interest of the Min-nice Moore nine. The deal was closed in Chicago yesterday afternoon. It has been pending two months.

"Although Mr. Schwab has bought the controlling interest in the Minuie Moore, frwin E. Rockwell, the man who unwatered the property and reopened it Irwin E. Rocawell, the man who un-watered the property and reopened it after it had been closed for years, still retains a large interest, and will con-tinue in charge of the property. "Mr. Schwab will probably take hold of other properties here now that he is interested in this district. But whether he does or not, he will undoubtedly be e does or not, he will undoubtedly bollowed here by many other capitalists.

A Good Pair of Glasses

cannot be bought at any store in town. There are many unscrupulous merchants who will sell you a pair of glasses with a "guarantee" of help, but the truth is your eyes will suffer by their use. Four run any risks. Go to an experienced and skilled optician and get glasses that fit. We'll test your eyes without charge, and furnish the "specs" at a reasonable price.
